It is rumored in Washington that President Harrison has tendered the French mission to Joseph Medill, editor of the Chicago Tribune.

It is reported that the Chinese Minister is about to leave Washington in consequence of the passage by the House of the new Chinese exclusion bill and that retaliatory measures are contemplated if the law goes on our Statute books.

There are rumors of a change of time on the S. P., by which the West-bound passenger, No. 4, will reach Reno two hours earlier in the evening, making it necessary for the evening passenger from Virginia, to leave Carson at 6:30, to make connections at Reno.

W. D. Mandich has been found guilty by a jury at Fresno of libel. He furnished a false death notice to the Republican. The case is of interest in that it involves liabilities for willfully giving false news to a reporter. Sentence will be pronounced Saturday.

News has reached Carson that the final arrangements are being made for the sale of the Inyo Canal and the soda works at Keeler to some English capitalists. These properties are now largely owned by Carson people. The new soda company will put up a large plant and expect to ship 20,000 tons of soda a year.

The Rev. Parkhurst, of New York, who called at a questionable resort and induced the girls to strip and dance, that he might preach a sermon against them, has given the place such a tremendous advertisement that the land lady has already been able to lift the mortgage, owing to the great increase of business.

A Paris Execution.

PARIS, April 9.—Louis Anastay, the ex sub-Lieutenant who murdered his benefactress, Baronesse Dellard, on December 4 last, was guillotined at 5:10 this morning. Anastay displayed considerable nervousness, but did not cause any trouble to the executioner, the first stroke of the sharp knife completely severing his head. A large crowd witnessed the execution.

Funeral of Mrs. Conway.

There was a very large funeral in Reno yesterday the occasion being the burial of Mrs. Conway the wife of James Conway.

Quite a number attended the funeral from this city and Virginia.

Her qualities endeared her to all who knew her and the APPEAL extends its sympathies to Mr. Conway in his bereavement.

Information Wanted.

MRS. WEBSTER'S SIDE.

She Explains her Transaction with William Ross.

About a week ago a dispatch from Hartford Conn. stated that Mrs. Webster at present in this city was being sued for $6,000, she had obtained from Wm. H. Ross of Brooklyn, through hypnotism. She told her side of the story to the APPEAL yesterday as follows:

"I invested in the neighborhood of $15,000 in the San Domingo Lumber Company. I placed it in the hands of H. S. Bean the President of the company who is a church deacon, and a man I supposed could do nothing wrong. I have in my possession over one hundred and fifty letters from him about the scheme, and always asking for more money. He claimed to have a concession from the Government of the Island and also, claimed that they were building a railroad to a big salt mine in the island. The railroad I since learned was a myth. He borrowed money from time to time and was running to see me at the Park Avenue hotel. The first advance I made was $2,000 and after that I kept advancing up to fifteen thousand. I have his notes and his letters.

He also took in Gov. Hale of N. H. for a good deal more than he did me and there are numerous other victims. Hale went down there and found Bean was not expending any money at all on the island. Hale said there was a great deal of rose wood and fine cabinet woods on the island and if it was taken hold of by the right parties it would be a fine investment. Bean claimed he had 300,000 acres paid for, but the records showed this was false and the man was a fraud. It affected Hale so, that he died. Other people who had invested in the scheme refused to believe Bean was a fraud until they went and saw for themselves.

At least half a dozen investors went down and all came back with the same story—no concession, no railroad. Bean claimed that an English Syndicate was ready to put up $300,000, this was also a lie.

One day I needed some money of Bean, of the money I had advanced and Bean gave me a draft on himself at three days sight for eleven hundred dollars. I took the draft to William H. Post and he advanced the money and Bean got the draft extended several times, and finally got Post to accept William H. Ross for the draft. Ross was a friend of Bean, and Bean said he was worth $600,000. He accepted Ross, who turned out to be a bankrupt and in debt.

This was unknown to me. Ross never paid it and refused to take any notice of Post who sent for me to know what it all meant.

He then threatened to arrest Bean and Ross. I protested against arresting Bean as I believed him all right. Post also had $5,000 in the San Domingo scheme.

"I went to New York and talked with Bean, he said he had sent so much money to San Domingo that he was short but as soon as he adjusted some matters he would be able to fix everything in good shape and the scheme would pay 10 per cent in six months.

"He wanted $4,500 and he talked me into endorsing his notes for that amount as I still felt confidence in the scheme. I had property in Hartford which I mortgaged. The note he gave me was for thirty days.

"When the time was up he wanted more time and then I began to get my eyes open and realize that I was being swindled.

Mr. Chester C. Munroe advanced the money on the note and nothing was done for several months, and Bean said he had arranged it with Munroe not to press me. The Post draft was settled out of the money Munroe advanced. Then William H. Ross called on me and said he had been offered the claim Munroe had against me of $4500 for less than half, namely, $2000. He said he could get it for $2000 worth of stock, and if I would advance the $2000 he would give Munroe the stock, and give me the note for $2000. I told him this was trickery, as my note was good for its face, and I declined to deal with him, as he seemed a fraud. I since learned he had no stock. He afterwards bought the claim of Munroe, claiming he bought it for its face value for cash, but I have since learned he gave stock in an iron mine. I regarded Ross, Munroe and Bean as in together to extort money from me. I also learned that Munroe advanced no money and Bean paid the $1100 out of his own pocket, pretending it was out of the $4500 advanced by Munroe. Ross is now suing for $6000. I was always ready to go to the trial, but the case was postponed from time to time, until I left on a visit to my brother, and then they spread the story all over the country of the hypnotism, which is the baldest humbug. I have no hypnotic gift whatever. I shall leave next Monday for Hartford and show them all up in their true colors. My lawyers have prevented any snap judgment, and I will be in Court on the 26th of April, ready to meet my accuser. I never met Ross in my life before he called on me to purchase the pretended claim of Munroe."

Correct as Usual.

A few days ago the APPEAL stated that a lighted wick dropped into a lamp half filled with oil would not explode the oil even if a certain pink powder used by two men in this city was not in the lamp.

The parties called yesterday and insisted on a correction of the statement.

To prove their theory they put some pink powder into a lamp half filled with oil and then dropped in a lighted wick. The lamp did not explode.

The Editor of the APPEAL then took the same lamp emptied it of the doctored oil, rinsed it out and put in fresh oil, but no pink powder. A lighted wick was then put in and the inside of the lamp was all aflame but no explosion.

The lamp was then kicked and tumbled about the street but it did not explode.

The parties who own the patent on the compound say that the sales of the powder have largely increased since the APPEAL posted it as a fraud. If such is the case their anxiety to have a correction of our original statement is not clear.

John Dillon.

"Wanted the Earth," with John Dillon in the leading role, will be the attraction at the Carson Opera House next Wednesday night. The play, in which Mr. Dillon assumes the role of a New Jersey farmer who afterwards becomes a speculator and mingles in society, is the best in which he has ever appeared. It is certainly a complete and finished comedy with a clever plot and numberless laughable situations. Mr. Dillon convulses the audience with nearly every sentence he utters, and so irresistibly ingratiates himself into the good graces of the spectators.

The Ghost Dance.

Guthrie, O. T., April 9.—Frank White and Buffalo Black, the two Indians who claim to be prophets of the coming Messiah, were released from jail on a writ of habeas corpus and have left for the Pawnee reservation, accompanied by a large crowd of their followers, who had come here to attend the trial. The ghost dance will be renewed, and as many of the Indians are arming themselves and refuse to obey the agents' orders, it is very probable that troops will be needed to quell an outbreak within the next two weeks.
